Frank is a second-year Music student who has consistently demonstrated creativity, dedication and professionalism. He is a talented and versatile musician with strong skills in performance, composition and music production, and he approaches his work with enthusiasm and ambition.

He actively engages with current trends and has a clear understanding of the skills required to build a successful career in the sector. He also has a strong sense of presentation, branding and personal image, recognising the importance of professionalism within the creative industries.

Frank is reliable, hardworking and receptive to feedback, continually striving to develop both his creative and technical abilities. I am confident he would thrive in higher education and make a positive contribution to the WaterBear community.

I have no hesitation in recommending Frank for this opportunity.
